Jacki:

I will come Wednesday or early Thursday to talk more with you, and discuss another round of sampling the ranch's waters.

Also, I will take a look at the barrels and soil impacts with you. I would suggest that you don't do any digging around them until we can take a better look at them. I understand that not all of the barrels appear to have used oil in them, and that you can't identify the contents.

My cell phone is listed below. I will likely be tied up most of Tuesday, but if you would call me on it between 8 and 10 Tuesday morning while I am driving up, we can set the most convenient time.
